

- ✓ We need to get the State of California out of the power buying business. Scarce tax dollars should be used for education, emergency services, police and fire – not to purchase power. Edison, not the state, has the skilled and experienced people to do the job right.
- ✓ Particularly during this time of national and economic uncertainty, it is irresponsible and destabilizing for the State Senate to standby and do nothing while one of California's oldest and most reliable companies goes into bankruptcy. Electricity is essential to our families, communities and state.
- ✓ The State Senate must act now to support SB 78xx, as amended by the State Assembly.

Finally, attached is a complete roster with phone numbers for the entire State Senate and the geographic areas each of them represent. Please ask your family, friends or co-workers to call their State Senators too, right away.

Thank you for your continued active support during these difficult times. I will continue to update you on the latest developments surrounding this ongoing crisis. In the meantime, please visit www.concernedshareholders.org or call the Concerned Shareholders of California toll-free hotline at 1-800-894-3344 with any questions.

Sincerely,

John E. Bryson
Chairman, President & CEO
Edison International

P.S. – Remember, please take the time now to contact your State Senator, named above, and urge a return of the Special Session and to pass legislation that will help restore Edison to financial health. Thanks again.
