Information for Call to LA Mayor Dick Riordan

at least this is one thing to cross off your list. For the Silicon Valley meeting, Steve suggested that we use Scott McNealy's contact. I can coordinate - let me know if I can take that off your plate, too. thx kd

This looks fantastic. I apologize profusely. I've got a dozen assignments to finish by COB. But having read this, you obviously needed no help from me. Let me know how the call with Riordan goes.

Best,
Jeff

Call to LA Mayor Dick Riordan

Ken - Thank you for making next Thursday, May 17 available for CEO meetings in California. We are working to set up two meetings -- one in Los Angeles and one in Silicon Valley (we'll call on Scott McNealy's contact person to help pull the Northern California meeting together). For the Los Angeles meeting, we'd like you to call Mayor Dick Riordan (213-847-3560) and ask for his help in pulling together a group of key, influential business leaders. As background, Riordan is a very wealthy Republican businessman who has been term-limited out and has not yet made public his future political aspirations (a bid for governor has been mentioned by insiders).

You might congratulate him on helping to settle the Writer's Guild strike and ask if he'd now like to resolve the energy crisis (He's in a bit of a spat with Dave Freeman over who can claim credit for LADWP's success during this energy situation - see attached LA Times article). You can say you've been told that he was one of the clearer heads during the deregulation process and were instrumental in keeping DWP out of the regulatory mess.

This is an opportunity for Riordan to help broker a solution, and that's why you're calling him. You met with Robert Day (Trust Co of the West) who suggested that you call Riordan and enlist his support.

Explain about our comprehensive solution -- business support is critical to garner political support.

You'll be in Los Angeles next Thursday. Ask if he could invite and host a meeting of key business leaders and introduce you. I've attached a suggested list of prominent businessmen, close associates and personal friends of Riordan's. We'd like to position this meeting as an insider's conversation of what's going on with the energy situation. This meeting should be for principals only.

Ask Riordan to identify someone in his office who we can work with to set up the meeting. Enron's consultant in LA (Marathon Communications) will work to coordinate the event.

If Riordan is not available next Thursday, ask him if he would ask Eli Broad (chairman of Sun America and a Democratic billionaire) or Jerry Perenchio (chairman of Univision) to host the meeting.

Proposed Invitees

- *Eli Broad - Chairman, Sun America
- *Ron Burkle - Yucaipa Companies
- Jeffrey Katzenberg - DreamWorks
- Sherry Lansing - Paramount
- Nelson Rising - Catellus
- Bob Daly - LA Dodgers
- Ray Irani - Occidental Petroleum
- *Jerry Perenchio - Univision
- Michael Eisner/Bob Iger - Disney
- Ed Roski - Majestic Realty
- Earvin Johnson/Ken Lombard - Johnson Development Corporation
- Bruce Karatz - Kaufmann & Broad
- Terry Semel - Yahoo!
- Gary Winnick - Global Crossing
- Henry Yuen - Gemstar
- *Carl McKinsey
- *Liam McGee - Bank of America
- *Barry Munitz - Getty Trust
- *Gordon Binder - Amgen (ret)
- David Baltimore - Cal Tech
- Danny Villanueva - Bastion Capital
- Phil Anschutz - Qwest Communications, Staples Center
- *Dennis Tito - civilian spaceman (former LADWP Commissioner)
- Kent Kresa - Northrop Grumman
